

Photograph by Elizabeth Erickson

APECS
Association of Polar
Early Career Scientists

Shaping the Future of Polar Research

www.apecs.is

APECS is an international organization for all early career professionals with interest in the polar and alpine regions as well as the wider cryosphere. Our aims are to stimulate collaboration across borders and disciplines and to develop effective future leaders in polar research, education, and outreach. All our activities rely on the help of more established mentors in all fields of polar research and education.

www.apecs.is